DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 5-16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 8.

2. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 1-4 in Paper No. 8 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that a search and examination of the entire application would not place a serious burden on the Examiner. This is not found persuasive because the examination of the entire application would place a serious burden on the examiner. The inventions are distinct as a product and process of use as described in the last office action, since the process of using defined in group I can be practiced with a different product such as one that does not have a drain valve or water circuit as required by the invention of group II. Because these two groups have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification it is deemed that searching both groups (examining the entire application) would place a serious burden on the examiner as described in MPEP 808.02.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kotylak.

Kotylak shows a mixing container (induction unit) for use with an agricultural spraying wherein the dispensing is controlled by foot operated pedal 80.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Foreign Patent No. FR 2714572 in view of Maples.

The foreign patent shows an induction unit which is emptied by means of a drain valve driven by a hand grip as described by the applicant in the "Discussion of the Background" section on page 2 of the specification. The foreign patent does not disclose the drain valve being acted on by a lower limb of the user. Maples discloses another spraying device having a dispensing valve 112 that is actuated by hand or can be activated by a foot lever for convenience. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have replaced the hand grip on the Foreign Patent with a foot operated lever so as to be conveniently operated by the user as taught by Maples in column 3, lines 60-64) so as to save time since the user will not have to bend or stoop to operate the valve.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Whiteman, Jr., Wyne, and Evanson show devices in the general state of the art of the invention.
